Of Com. C, 1st Pennsylvania Artillery.

BY J. L. A.

Amongst the troops that sallied forth
The Keystone volunteers,
This soldier brave of matchless worth,
Whose heart ne'er harbor'd fear.

Through all the battles fought so well,
Undaunted, firm, he stood,—
Whilst many a brave beside him fell,
All weltering in his blood.

His time was out—he did return,—
But here could not remain;
That noble heart for freedom burned—
He volunteer'd again.

Ah! cruel fate, why was it so?
Scarce had three weeks gone by
A summons came for him to go—
A summons from on high.

Death claimed the soldier as his own,
Locked in his cold embrace;
No more to see his face.

Then weep not parents for your son,
For he was true and brave;
His course is run—his errand done,—
He fills no coward's grave.

From the U. S. Journal.

THE SOBER SECOND THOUGHT.

By the time the next presidential election shall come round, we doubt not that many, who, at the recent elections, cast their votes adversely to the present administration, will have calmly reviewed the whole matter, have corrected their former opinions, and revised the whole course of their proceedings, so much so that at least, as to see the propriety, and to feel the necessity, from an enlightened policy, no less than from principle of assisting to the utmost of their ability, the "powers that be," in crushing out the rebellion, and in restoring the Union upon terms alike honorable to the administration, consistent with the dignity of the sovereign people, and the reputation of the nation.

Already it appears, that a great change has come over the spirit of the dreams of many, who of late, manifested considerable sympathy, in more ways than one, for the conspirators. We are not without hope, that they will continue to improve, in a degree commensurate with the demands of patriotism and justice, at this hour of the nations trial, and of a crisis, the most momentous.

Pennsylvania, Ohio, and other Union States, will give much larger majorities next fall for the Union President, than what they gave the Republican ticket in their last city, county and State elections. And New York, New Jersey and all the free States by the next presidential election, we are constrained to believe will give their cordial and energetic support to the policy and measures of the present administration. The democracy will do this from prudential motives, from motives of economy, from an indisposition to interfere with a matter that is but partly finished. In their calm, sober and reflective moments, they will reason

Our Flag Forever.

"I know of no mode in which a loyal citizen may so well demonstrate his devotion to his country as by sustaining the Flag the Constitution and the Union, under all circumstances, and UNDER EVERY ADMINISTRATION REGARDLESS OF PARTY POLITICS, AGAINST ALL ASSAILANTS, AT HOME AND ABROAD."—STEPHEN A. DOUGLAS.

PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION.—A resolution has been offered in the House of Representatives at Harrisburg, instructing the Judiciary Committee to report as soon as possible, the amendments to the Constitution passed by the last Legislature, and, also, that the Committee be instructed to inquire into the expediency of holding a special election not later than the first of August next, to give the people of the State an opportunity of adopting or rejecting the same, in time, providing they should be adopted, to allow the soldiers to vote at the ensuing fall elections.—The resolution was adopted almost unanimously.

Among the proposed amendments to the Constitution, is one permitting Pennsylvania soldiers in service to vote in the field. Should the special election be authorized, and the amendments be adopted, it will entitle the soldiers to vote at the election next fall.

Finding out his Mistake.

Some of the leading Southern traitors—the men who planned the scheme of Secession and precipitated the people into revolution—are now discovering that they have not gained very much practically, as regards their ideas of State independence and sovereignty. General Robert Toombs was suddenly awakened out of his delusion a few days since, in a manner that must have greatly astonished, as well as irritated him. Recent intelligence from Richmond informed us that he had "taken the cars in Savannah without a passport. The officer on the train, whose duty it was to examine passports, called in the discharge of this duty, upon Mr. Toombs, for his passport. Mr. Toombs had no passport, and so informed the officer, and said that he would not procure any, adding that he was General Robert Toombs, and owed allegiance to Georgia and no other Government, and that his State did not require her citizens to travel with passes and passports, and that he would not procure a passport. The officer informed Gen. Toombs that his orders allowed him no discretion, but required of him not to allow any man to pass without a passport. General Toombs, still refusing to procure a passport, was ejected from the cars by the guard. Gen. Toombs proceeded to harangue them in an excited and bitter manner, and in disloyal and treasonable language. General Beauregard being in Savannah, and hearing the facts, ordered the arrest and confinement of General Toombs, and he was taken in charge by a guard."

This was a pretty rough way of teaching Mr. Toombs a lesson as to the nature of that Government he had helped Mr. Davis to erect in the South and many like experiences to come hereafter will go far to convince him, and others in the same section, that they made a grand mistake in attempting to establish a Confederate Government on the principle of absolute State sovereignty. No such political fabric can stand. The Central authority must be supreme in all National affairs; otherwise there can be no order, no cohesion; no stability in the body politic. State rights were as nearly harmonized with a supreme General Government in the Constitution of the United States, as it was or is possible to effect such a reconciliation in any federative system. Every civil organization must have one head, instead of many. But Gen. Toombs thought that Georgia was equal to or greater than all the Confederate States as represented by the Central Confederate Government. In other words he evidently supposed that the political structure which he and his confederates in treason had built up, was founded on the absurd theory that the parts are separately equivalent to the whole. They must speedily find out their error. And when they are bro't back to their allegiance to this Government, they will be all the better citizens for the bitter experience thro' which they are passing.

THE State Senate adjourns from day to day without doing any business. The election to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Mr White who is still a prisoner, takes place on Friday next. The Senate will be organized next week, and then Clymer & Co., will have to stand from under

The last Monitor makes an attack upon James Bricker, charging him with making money off the persons recruited by him into the army. The attack is malicious either on the part of the editor, or he is the dupe of persons who have not the capacity and energy to be as successful in recruiting as Mr. Bricker appears to be. The truth is this—Mr. Bricker and others were a committee for the borough of Huntingdon to raise its quota. The mustering in fee which the Government pays to each recruit was transferred by them to the committee of the bounty fund of the borough, and to that extent it swelled that fund, and the town and the recruits have the benefit of it, and the recruiting committee make nothing by the operation. After the quota of Huntingdon was known or believed to be full, Mr. Bricker has been employed by committees from various townships in the county to exert himself to raise recruits for those places, the mustering in fee being credited to the committees of the respective local bounty fund as it was in Huntingdon. The committees of those townships have made an agreement with him to pay him out of their fund a certain sum for each recruit he gets for them, which is all the pay he gets; and which is entirely a matter of private bargain. He has been industrious and successful in getting recruits for the various places for which he is employed and therefore the Monitor and their informers have made the attack. No recruit will come forward and say that he has not got the amount he bargained for. TRUTH.

U. S. Christian Commission,
13 Bank St., Phila., Feb. 5, '64.

DEAR MADAM: — Mr. Patterson, Treasurer of the U S Christian Commission, will himself acknowledge the generous contribution received thro' you from the people of Mooresville, Manor Hill, &c.

Permit me, at his request, to drop you a note concerning the work of the Christian Commission for our nation's brave defenders.

One thing about it, whatever it may be in value and amount, it would have been very little in comparison if the ladies had not given us their help.—Their noble, humane and Christian efforts have done much to supply stores and money, and the country owes them a debt of unbounded gratitude for it.

The Christian Commission is an electric chain between the hearth and the tent. It carries the benefits of home, and church, and the press, as well as it can, to our sons and brothers gone to the war. Our delegates go to them, seek out the suffering ones on the battle field and in the camp, to relieve and cheer them.

They go full handed, taking with them the clothing, delicacies, &c., prepared by the ladies, or purchased with the money given, and distribute them personally to the men who are suffering for want of them.

They carry also the weekly religious newspapers in great numbers, the family papers the soldiers are accustomed to see at home, with books, and tracts, and, best of all, the Scriptures; with all these, they do all they can by personal influence and public preaching to make and keep our noble men unspotted, and to fit them for life and for death. This work everywhere meets the earnest "God bless the Christian Commission" from the soldiers, and the hearty approbation of all in authority, from the President down. It has grown in a few months from nothing to more than a million of dollars in amount, and has saved O how many lives of the noble men who have gone into the deadly conflict to save the life of the nation.

We hope the war may soon be brought to a close, and the rebellion be put down; but while it lasts let us do all we can for the bodies and souls of those who fight our battles for us.

Many thanks for the generous help of the citizens of Mooresville, Manor Hill, and of Huntingdon county generally. Truly yours,

W. E. BOARDMAN, Sec. U S C C
Mrs. J. M. LOVE, Manor Hill.

Who Fired Colt's Armory?

That the supposition of an emissary coming from the rebels to fire the building is not preposterous, is shown by the fact that not long ago a workman did come there with the piteous story that he was a deserter from the rebels, and was employed. But notice how and when the fire broke out. It was during the only half hour in the twenty four when a watchman was not present; there being an interval of half an hour in the morning between the going away of the night watchman for that floor and the one below it, and the coming of the day watchman. It could not have been fired in the night, because then the watchmen are all about, and no one could have got into the building. It was kindled in the wing connecting the two main buildings, so that it was likely to take both and destroy the rifle as well as the pistol shops. It started where the patterns and much choice dry wood were stored, which would readily kindle. It is a great mystery how it could have caught fire itself, and no one but a rebel sympathizer could have desired its destruction.—Hartford Press.

☞ A fellow was recently arrested at Chicago, charged with getting up a swindling circular, announcing a "Grand Gift and Prize Lottery" for the benefit of sick & wounded soldiers, the patronage of the ladies of Chicago. The circular announced 60,000 tickets for sale at $1 each—$20,000 to go for the benefit of the soldiers, and $40,000 to be distributed in prizes. The follow was making a fine thing of it.

To Soldiers and Postmasters.—Editors of newspapers throughout the United States will doubtless confer a favor on the soldiers in the field, as well as their friends at home, by giving publicity to the following:

AN ACT to amend the law prescribing the articles to be admitted into the mails of the United States.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That articles of clothing, being manufactured of wool, cotton or linen, and comprised in a package not exceeding two pounds in weight, addressed to any non-commissioned officer or private serving in the armies of the United States, may be transmitted in the mails of the United States at the rate of eight cents, to be in all cases prepaid, for every four ounces, or any fraction thereof, subject to such regulations as the Postmaster General may prescribe.

Approved, January 22, 1864.

POST OFFICE DEPARTMENT,
January 25, 1864.

The foregoing law is published for the information of the public, and especially for the guidance of Postmasters, and is thought to be so full and plain that no one can mistake its meaning. Postmasters will, however, bear in mind that packages of clothing entitled to pass in the mails—four ounces for eight cents—must be manufactured from wool, cotton or linen; and not exceeding two pounds in weight, and must be addressed to a non-commissioned officer or private serving in the armies of the United States. Consequently a package addressed to a commissioned officer, or composed of other materials than as above specified, such as boots, shoes, &c., if sent by mail, must be prepaid by stamps at letter rates, viz: three cents for every half ounce or fraction thereof.

M. BLAIR,
Postmaster General.

We observe that the above has been published extensively, but incorrect in regard to the sums to be paid as postage. We re-publish above an official copy the same correctly.

☞ In a speech delivered at Boston a few days ago, General Burnside told the following incident, illustrative of the patriotism of the East Tennesseeans:—During the siege of Knoxville his Commissary reported to him that there was no bread for the garrison. They must live on meat, then, was the order. But next morning, and subsequently every morning, a fleet of flat boats from Sevier county was floated down the Broad river into the Holston, loaded with corn and wheat.—The boats had to pass the rebel pickets but the gallant men guiding them built parapets of the barrels, and not one of the boats was lost. "It seemed as if they were guided by the providence of God," said General Burnside, "and I felt there was no danger of starvation"

☞ Fernando Wood offered an amendment to the enrollment law on Tuesday last, "To exempt from the draft all who, from conscientious disbelief in the humanity, necessity, or eventual success of this war, are opposed to its further prosecution until an effort has been made, and failed, to end it by negotiation." The effect of this amendment would have been to exempt the entire home-traitor party, and would have suited that miserable faction exactly, but unfortunately the House "didn't see it," and Fernando's motion was voted down by 23 in favor to 103 against.

Petitions are being presented to Congress from various quarters praying that the circulation of all banks chartered by State Legislatures may be taxed to such an extent as to compel them to call in their issues, and use only the national legal tender currency. This is a reform which cannot be too speedily put into operation. By a system known only to the banks, no institution in this Commonwealth pays out its own notes in its own locality. Checks on almost any bank are paid in as many different five dollar bills as are called for on the face of the check, all on different banks, distant from the locality of the banks which issued them, and totally unknown to the persons who are expected to receive them as money. What good reason is there to prevent these banks from circulating the notes of the Government. The Government is just as solvent as any of those banking companies, so that the bank which refuses thus to contribute to the general success, should be heavily taxed on its own issues to make up for the refusal. Now is the time for Congress to assert its power over the currency of the country. Now is the time for the Federal Government to insist upon its exclusive right to make and issue money. Let there be no delay about these assertions. With this right firmly fixed and exercised exclusively by the Federal Government, a great blessing will be vouchsafed, financially now and forever, hereafter.—Harrisburg Telegraph.

The Memphis Bulletin publishes a card, signed by three hundred of the best citizens of the city, addressed to the people of Tennessee upon the subject of the re organization of the State and re-establishing relations with the National Government. The Enrollment Bill, as Amended.

The following is the enrollment bill, as amended. It having passed both Houses of Congress, only awaits the President's signature to become a law:

The bill, as passed by the House, provides that the quota of each ward of a city, town, township, precinct, or election district, or of a county, where the same is divided into wards, towns, townships, precincts, or election districts, shall be as nearly as possible in proportion to the number of men resident therein subject to draft, taking into account, as far as practicable, the number which has been previously furnished therefrom; and in ascertaining and filling the said quota there shall be taken into account the recent number of men who have heretofore entered the naval service of the United States, and whose names are borne upon the enrollment lists as already returned to the office of the Provost Marshal General of the United States. Any persons enrolled under the provisions of the enrollment act, who may hereafter be so enrolled, may furnish at any time previous to the draft an acceptable substitute, who is not liable to draft nor at the time in the military or naval service of the United States, and such persons so furnishing a substitute shall be exempt from draft, during the time for which such substitute shall be exempt from draft, not however, exceeding the time for which such substitute shall have been accepted. But no private soldier, musician, or non-commissioned officer being actually in the military service of the United States, shall be procured or accepted as the substitute. The boards of enrollment are to enrol all persons liable to draft under the provisions of this act, and of the enrollment act, whose names may have been omitted by the proper enrolling officers; and all persons who shall have arrived at the age of 20 years before the draft; all aliens who shall declare their intention to become citizens; all persons discharged from the military and naval service of the United States, who have not been in such service two years during the present war, and all persons who have been exempted under the provisions of the second section to which this act is a supplement, but who are not exempted by the provisions of this act; and the boards of enrollment shall release and discharge from draft all persons, who, between the time of the enrollment and the draft, shall have arrived at the age of forty-five years, and shall strike the names of such persons from the enrollment. Any person drafted into the military service of the United States may, before the time fixed for his appearance for duty at the draft rendezvous, furnish an acceptable substitute, subject to such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary of War. If such substitute is not liable to draft, the person furnishing him shall be exempt from draft during the time for which such substitute is not liable to draft, not exceeding the term for which he was drafted, and if such substitute is liable to draft, the name of the person furnishing him shall be liable to draft in filling future quotas; and if any drafted persons shall hereafter pay money for the procuration of a substitute under the provisions of the act to which this is an amendment, such payment of money shall operate only to relieve such persons from draft during the time for which the person was drafted, unless the names placed in the box become exhausted, in which case the names shall be returned to the wheel. Members of religious denominations who shall by oath or affirmation declare that they are conscientiously opposed to the bearing of arms, and who are prohibited from doing so by the rules and articles of faith and practice of said religious denominations, shall, when drafted into the military service, be considered as non-combatants, and shall be assigned by the Secretary of War to duty in the hospitals or to the care of freedmen, or shall pay the sum of $300 to such persons as the Secretary of War shall designate to receive it, to be applied to the benefit of sick and wounded soldiers: Provided, That no person shall be entitled to the benefit of the provisions of this section, unless this declaration of conscientious scruples against bearing arms shall be supported by satisfactory evidence that his deportment has been uniformly consistent with such declaration.

Any mariner or able seaman who shall be drafted shall have the right, within eight days after the notification of such draft, to enlist in the naval service as a seaman. No pilot, engineer, master at arms, acting master, acting ensign, or acting master's mate, having an appointment, or acting appointment, as such, and being actually in the naval service, shall be subject to a military draft while holding such appointment.

Such as are rejected as physically or mentally unfit for the service.

All persons actually in the military or naval service of the United States at the time of the draft.

All persons who have served in the military or naval service two years, during the present war, and who have been honorably discharged from the service, and no persons but such as are herein excepted shall be exempt. The two classes heretofore provided for in the enrollment are consolidated.—In all cases where colored persons have been heretofore enlisted in the military service of the United States, all the provisions of this act, so far as the payment of bounty and compensation are provided, shall be equally applicable, as well as to those who may be hereafter recruited.

The bill also contains the section for enrolling all able-bodied persons of African descent; upon which a separate vote was taken before the bill was passed.

IMPORTANT RUMOR.—Baltimore, Feb. 10.—The Montgomery (Ala.) Daily Mail, has the following significant announcement:—

"Rumors of an evacuation of Richmond are gaining credit. There is a movement on foot which will create more consternation at Richmond, than anything that has occurred during the war."

The Expedition towards Richmond.

Fortress Monroe, Feb. 8.—The expedition having returned, we are permitted to state the following facts:—On Saturday morning, General Butler's forces, under command of Brig. Gen. Wistar, marched from Yorktown by the way of New Kent Court House. The cavalry arrived at 2½ o'clock yesterday morning at Bottom's Bridge, across the Chickahominy, ten miles from Richmond, for the purpose of making a raid into Richmond, and endeavoring by a surprise to liberate our prisoners.

The cavalry reached the bridge at the time appointed, marching in 16½ hours 47 miles. A force of infantry followed in their rear, for the purpose of supporting them. It was expected to surprise the enemy at Bottom's Bridge, who had had for some time only a small picket there. The surprise failed because, as the Richmond Examiner of to day says, "a Yankee deserter gave information in Richmond of the intended movement." The enemy had felled a large amount of timber so as to block up and obstruct the fords and make it impossible for our cavalry to pass.

After remaining at the bridge from 2 o'clock until 12, Gen Wistar joined them with his infantry, and the whole object of the surprise having been defeated, Gen Wistar returned to Williamsburg. On his march back to New Kent Court House, his rear was attacked by the enemy, but they were repulsed without loss to us. A march by our infantry, three regiments of whom were colored, of more than 80 miles, was made in 56 hours. The cavalry marched over 100 miles in 50 hours. This shows that it is possible to make a campaign in Virginia in winter.

The Frightful Panic at the Rebel Capital

Baltimore, Feb. 9.—The American has a special dispatch from Fortress Monroe, from C. C. Fulton, who has been up to City Point. It says:

The rebel flag of truce steamer Schultz, with Commissioner Ould and Captain Hatch, the truce officer, arrived on Sunday at City Point.

Two citizen prisoners, brought down by the Schultz, were sent on board the New York.

The prisoners bro't exciting news from Richmond, which they represent to have been in a state of feverish excitement from midnight on Saturday up to the time they left, at 2 o'clock on Sunday afternoon.

At midnight on Saturday the bells of the city were rung and men were rushing through the streets crying—"To arms, to arms—the Yankees are coming." During the remainder of the night an intense commotion was everywhere visible: the Home Guards were called out, and the tramp of armed men could be heard in all directions. Cannon were hauled through the streets, women and children were hurrying to and fro, and there were all the evidences of such a panic as had seldom been witnessed in Richmond.

On Sunday morning there was no abatement in the excitement. The guards were all marched out of the city to the defences, and the armed citizens placed on guard over the prisoners. Horsemen were dashing to and fro, and the excitement among the prisoners to know the cause of all this commotion became intense. It was soon learned that a large cavalry and infantry force, with artillery, had made their appearance on the Peninsula at Bottom's Bridge, within ten miles of the city, and that Richmond was actually threatened by the Yankees. The same hurrying of troops, arming of citizens and excitement among the women and children continued during the morning.

At 2 o'clock in the afternoon, when the prisoners were about to leave in the truce boat, the alarm bells were again rung with great fury, and they left a scene of confusion and turmoil such as they had never before witnessed in the city. The rumors that prevailed were conflicting and wild.—It was their impression that 8,000 or 10,000 cavalry would have found but little difficulty in entering the city, liberating the prisoners, destroying the forts and public property, and returning by the Peninsula before any sufficient force to resist them could be brought to the aid of the small garrison left to defend it.

For several days previous to this alarm, the troops in and around the city, to the number of 4000 or 5000, had been sent off to join Lee's army with great dispatch, the impression prevailing that a movement was contemplated by General Meade. In this they were right, as during the progress of the excitement on Sunday, intelligence was received that Meade had crossed the Rapidan.

On Monday morning a courier arrived at City Point bringing copies of the morning papers with the intelligence that the excitement had abated and that it had been ascertained that the Yankees were falling back from the Chickahominy and had abandoned the attack.

FROM WESTERN VIRGINIA.

Headquarters West Virginia, Feby. 9.—Information of high importance reached our outposts to-day, and was brought in by a mounted deserter from General Early's command. The deserter says that when he left a rumor was prevalent of the removal, or preparations being made for the immediate removal, of all the Yankee prisoners from the neighborhood of Richmond. Also, that the Richmond authorities had detained the mails, newspapers, &c., going from Richmond to the soldiers in camp.

Captain Dougherty, of the 18th Va. Union Infantry, while in command of a scout in Hampshire county, yesterday, encountered the noted rebel guerilla, Mike Cairn, at the head of his gang, killing the leader, and capturing his lieutenant and four men, with horses and equipments, &c.

The encounter took place between Romney and Morefield, when the guerillas were beaten and compelled to take to the woods and mountains in all directions for immediate safety.

FROM TENNESSEE.

Gallatin, Feb. 8th—An expedition, composed of detachments of the 71st Ohio Volunteer Infantry, 52d Kentucky, and the Tennessee State guard, in all three hundred, was organized by Brigadier General Paine, commander of this post, and made a successful raid into Putnam, Overton, White and Fentress counties. It was out eleven days, and traveled about three hundred miles, killed thirty-three guerillas, took 102 prisoners, and captured about one hundred horses and mules, and a considerable quantity of stolen property. Among the captured is Colonel Murray, of the rebel army, and among the killed are Captain Brown and two lieutenants. Colonel H K M'Connell, of the 71st Ohio Vol Infantry, commanded the expedition.

From Knoxville.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 10.—Persons arrived at Nashville, yesterday, from Knoxville, report that our communications with Cumberland Gap are cut off, and that nearly all of East Tennessee is in possession of the rebels.

Gen. Johnson's headquarters are at Atlanta. Nearly all the Tennessee brigades, and two-thirds of the Kentucky regiments have been sent South, ostensibly to assist in holding Mobile, but in reality to prevent desertions.—The Tennesseeans leave the rebel army in large numbers.

The Discontent in North Carolina.

The press of North Carolina continues to denounce in vehement language the despotic measures of the Rebel Congress. The Raleigh Progress of a recent date speaks in the following emphatic fashion:

"The present Congress is bent on fastening a military despotism on the people of these Confederate States, and the people must either submit quietly to receive the yoke, or resist the tyranny. Resistance to tyrants is obedience to God, and the people of North Carolina will not hesitate as to the course they should pursue. Pass the bill to enroll the whole population reported in the House by the Military Committee, and a spontaneous cry will come up from every nook and corner of North Carolina for a Convention, and unless the military shall gag the last man in the State, including the Governor, the Legislature, and other State officers, they will have it.

* * "We may be imprisoned for this declaration; but believing before God and man, that we are doing our duty, we appeal to the President and his Congress to pause and reflect before it is too late. North Carolina cannot and will not submit to have every ablebodied man conscribed and the whole State turned into a military camp. We want to achieve an independence over the common enemy, but we are not willing to become the vassals of usurpers at home to achieve that or any other object. We speak the words of truth and soberness, because we know the sentiments of the great mass of the people in North Carolina. The State will never willingly submit to a despotism with Jefferson Davis or any one else at its head.

In the same vein the Salem (N. C.) Press remarks:

"Every day convinces us more and more that we are upon the eve of events which are pregnant with the fate of the confederacy. True, all seems quiet, but it is but the lull that precedes a storm. Every paper we open contains remarks upon the exodus of our citizens from their homes to avoid the recent law placing the principals of substitutes into the army.

"Even men who were devoted to the cause of southern independence feel their courage grow less and less, as the prospect for placing them into the army becomes more and more certain.

"Last summer, when the people held meetings in many counties in this State, with a view to inaugurate negotiations for an honorable peace, they were denounced as a band of traitors who were striking up strife, and giving aid and comfort to the enemy!—A change now seems to have come over the spirit of their dream, and the time is not far distant when all will agree that this war must be brought to a close by other means than the sword."

A Wail from Georgia.

The editor of the Baltimore Clipper has been permitted to make the following extracts from a letter from a wealthy planter of Georgia, who has been a thorough secessionist, to his relative in East Tennessee, now on a visit to Baltimore, who was from the beginning a true and loyal citizen, and had warned his Georgia relative of the danger of going to war for his rights in the territories:

I have many things to tell you about. My troubles are numerous and I want some help, if possible; my negro women and children will eat me up, unless I can get them off. My carriage will be taken by my negroes so soon as they get back. I have no regret at losing the negroes, if they all would go, as they have never been of any profit to me; but to be left with the women and children and old people—makes it bad. If I could get the women and children to the Yankees, they may have them, with my good wishes for their welfare; but if they stay, and the men return, I fear for the consequences of negroes in Yankee uniforms. I always told my men not to run away, but let me know when they wanted to go, and they should go off with all they had, in good style; but they became afraid of me, and left without giving notice.

"I am fully satisfied that slavery is done in this country, and am not much sorry for it, if we could only have peace and quiet the remainder of our lives. The Legislature of Georgia has passed a militia bill, requiring all men to be enrolled between the ages of 16 and 60, to be turned over to the Confederate Government on a call from the President. So you see, after being robbed of everything we have made, our negroes all gone, then put all the men in the army, and leave our wives and children to starve, under the name of freedom for our homes and firesides is a rich idea. Capt ——, John ——, and old ——, will be the only men left in the —th district, and not one of them able to cut wood or make a fire. This looks like 'getting our rights in the territories!'

"We have no money that can be used outside of the Confederacy, and we can't live in it. I yet have meat and corn to do for my family for the year, if my mill is not destroyed, and I do not know that I will have it by the time this reaches you. If things keep on as they are going, all will be gone beyond redemption soon. Money will be money when this war is over, and we of the South will not have it. [After stating his fears that his young son would be forced into the army, and remarking that he don't want him there, he continues:] I do not know how far confiscation is to go. It may clear out all we of the South have, but what is not consumed in that way will be by taxes.

A Fearful Adventure on the Ice.

On Friday, a Frenchman, whose name we did not learn, residing in Springwells, wishing to visit Canada, ventured to cross the river on the ice with a team. He had with him his wife and two children, who were bundled up and snugly ensconced in the bottom of the sleigh, for protection against the wind that blows upon the river. The entire party were in the most disadvantageous position to meet an accident of the nature of the one which befell them on their passage over. When about half way across, the ice gave, precipitating them into the water. The frantic efforts of the team to get out were continually increasing the size of the hole in which they had fallen, and rapidly accumulating fragments of ice. Before he could reach out his arm to grasp the child, one of the horses succeeded in raising one foot high enough to rest it upon the edge of the ice, upon which he attempted to raise himself.—The movement threw him over backward, entangling him in the harness, at the same time striking the boy upon his head with one of his fore feet, or else some hard portion of his harness, opening a large scalp wound.—The father seized his child just as he sank; and succeeded in placing him with the others, although nearly defeated by the commotion created by the horses, whose fear had entirely overcome them and, being entangled in the harness were at last being drawn under the ice, the sleigh having passed under by the action of the current. Seeing that all efforts to save the horses were futile, he turned his attention toward the mother and children, two of whom were heroically clinging to a box although nearly benumbed with cold, the mother holding also the injured and senseless child upon a board from the bottom of the sleigh, which had become detached.

Almost immediately after leaving the team they were taken under the ice. He labored energetically in removing the family from the edge of the hole, and was successful, altho' nearly chilled to death, in placing them upon firm ice, after almost incredible labor. Upon reaching a place of safety, a few feet from the edge of the hole in which they had been engulphed, that strength which had sustained them sank from exhaustion, and this, combined with the stupor caused by cold and fatigue, almost overcame them. It was with great difficulty that energy sufficient to keep awake and under motion could be mustered, and their lives were equally in danger from the effects of this lethargy with that of their condition among the fragments of floating ice. By strong exertions, however, they succeeded in reaching the land and a house, where they were taken care of. There are fears that the child, which was injured in the head, will not survive, as the wound and exposure combined place him in a critical condition. The others, however, are doing well.—Detroit Press.

Marvelous Incident.

In the course of our reading we remember to have met with a few cases where, at the moment of death, a vision of the dead has appeared to friends at a great distance from the place of death, as if to give notice of the event; but these instances were in Europe, and occured a long time ago—so one might doubt their authenticity, or at least be excused for not accepting them as veritics, and all the more since nothing of the kind was ever heard of in his own region. We have now a case which is free from these objections, and is quite as extraordinary as any that have been recorded.

A friend (whose name we do not give, simply because we did not happen to ask his authority for publication) recently called on us, who has lost a son in the army, an officer of good promise serving under General Banks. We alluded to the great loss of our friend, and, in conversation upon that subject, he said a very remarkable thing had happened to him in connection with it. When he had no reason to doubt the well-being of his son, and had no anxiety for him beyond what was usual, and was sleeping calmly, he was suddenly awakened by a shock as if he had been shot through the head. His first thought was that he had been shot—or, to use his own expression, "This is death."—But the next instant a vision of his son appeared to him, and the impression was that his son and not himself was killed.

He had never believed in ghosts or spiritual manifestations; nor did he at the occurrence of the vision, nor does he now, undertake to account for it, or call it a spiritual manifestation.—He did not recollect the date or hour; but he did in the morning relate the circumstance to two of his friends.—They did not record the date; but when, about three weeks afterwards, intelligence was received of the death of the son by a shot through the head, at Port Hudson, at six o'clock in the morning, the recollection of one of them was that the vision and the death were on the same day, or the next day after the death of the son. Such was the account given to us, and we have no doubt of its truth. Our friend would not trifle on a matter which to him has not only the solemnity of the grave, but it also touches his keenest affection.—Vermont Watchman and Freeman.

LOCAL & PERSONAL.

What Next?—The type founders have issued a circular to all printers that they have raised the price of printing materials 25 per cent. Printers' ink has advanced 25 per cent; and paper makers have raised the price of paper 100 per cent. The reader will see that publishers of newspapers are not likely to become millionaires in a hurry under this state of affairs. Surely, printers are the unluckiest of the unlucky, and the ones most frequently subject to disappointment,—for, when we thought matters looked most favorable for a reduction in the amount of impost on printing materials, we are met with the astounding intelligence that more is added. We have not yet been smitten with the "rising" fever, and so long as our list continues as it is, crowded with honest, promptly paying subscribers, there is not much probability of us soon being infected with the contagion.

A Soldiers' Dinner and a Big Speech.—On Thursday last, Mr. John Dean, of the National House, gave a dinner to a number of veteran volunteers of Co. G and Co. I 5th, P. R. C., who enlisted early in the war against the rebellion. We had the pleasure of being present, and of enjoying the good dinner provided for the occasion—the table being loaded to running over with good things generally. After the party had done justice to the eatables, Capt. Harrison presiding, entertained a motion that W. W. Gray, Esq., address the soldiers, which of course was unanimously agreed to, and Mr. Gray rose and did address the soldiers in a speech of an hour and a half in length, and closed which he had just about commenced in good earnest. We dont know that we were ever better, if as well, pleased with an address and we are very sure the soldiers, and all others who had the pleasure of hearing the "Yankee orator," were equally as well pleased. The company adjourned with three cheers for the dinner, the host and hostess and our country.

Accident.—On Friday last, Mr. Samuel Molatt, an employee on the Penna. R. R., attempted to jump on the noon passenger trair at this place, going east, after it had got in motion, and was thrown under the cars, one wheel passing over his right arm above the elbow breaking the bone in three places. He was also slightly injured on the head and right ankle. Drs. Luden and Snare were soon at the depot and took the arm off near the shoulder. The unfortunate man was then taken to comfortable quarters at the Jackson House where he received the kind attention of Mr. Morrison and family. Mr. Molatt has a family residing at Millerstown, Perry county.

Our Railroads.

The annual Report of the Railroad Department of the State presented to the State Legislature, gives gratifying evidence of the prosperity of the different roads.—The receipts of the roads in the State for the year amount to the sum total of $40,523,571, 45. The expense for the same period were $20,602,804,56, leaving a balance on the profit side of $19,920,766, 89, which is nearly half the total earnings. Of this the receipts of the Pennsylvania Rail Road amounted to near $12,000,000, while the expenses were about half that sum. The receipts of the Passenger Railways in Philadelphia, for the year, amount to $1,813,218,20, leaving a balance, on the profit side, after deducting expenses, of $546,173,58.

Perhaps no other railroad or corporation in the world can show such a profitable balance sheet, in the business of one year, as that exhibited by the Pennsylvania Railroad. The business of the road during the past year has been immense, and has been managed in the most skilful manner. The Penn'a R. R. is of more importance to the General Government than any other railroad in the country, as it is the safest and most direct connecting link between the East and West.

The above also shows, in a very decided manner, the difference in the progress of affairs between the North and the South. While the Southern roads are wearing out and growing dilapidated, and no material to repair them, ours are prospering beyond all precedent in this department of enterprise and industry.—Altoona Tribune.

Removing West.—We understand that Mr. Samuel J. Hackedorn, one of the Directors of the Poor of this county, intends to move west in the spring. This will leave a vacancy in the Board and it is necessary to elect two Directors next fall, in the place of Messrs. Henderson & Hackedorn. Mr. Hackedorn is one of the best men in the lower end, and we regret to lose him as a citizen of the county.

☞ The Parlor Matches, superior to any other kind, in the market, for sale at Lewis' Book Store.

☞ Major Osterloh left for New York on Friday night last, where he was ordered to report for duty as Paymaster in the Navy.

Our Soldiers.—While we speak with all due praise of the deeds, and admire the courage and evidence of devotion to country in the re-enlisted veterans, we should not be unmindful of those who are still on the field. Their term of enlistment will soon expire, and, after three years of the most exciting interest and adventure that some of them will, perhaps, never again be destined to witness, they too will return to enjoy once more the comforts of home. If these braves do not again enlist, that is no reason they should be censured or any the less honored or admired. But we cannot think that any man can be so false to the welfare of the Union soldiers as not to fully appreciate the services they have already rendered their country, and give them a cordial reception "when they come marching home."

St. Valentine's Day.—Sunday last; the 14th, was St. Valentine's day, held in remembrance as the birth-day of a Pope of that name It is said that on this day the birds choose their mates. The prevalent custom of sending Valentines at this season, was fully enforced here during the past week, and if sending valentines is any omen of the desire for a "partner," we think that many lads and lassies will ere long be wedded in the sacred bonds of conjugal love.

Military Aspect.—The goodly number of soldiers, veteran and recruit, wearing the attractive "blues," gives our town quite a military appearance, like unto the days of Camp Crossman, Camp Juniata, and still latterly of the camp of invalids. The general jollity of the "bold soger boys" breaks the usual monotonous quiet here, and every one is lively.

Dedication.—The new Lutheran Church in Allenville, Mifflin county, will be dedicated to the service of God on Thursday, Feb. 25th. A number of ministers are expected to be present. The Rev. C. Leply of Williamsport, Md., will preach the dedicatory sermon. Services to commence at 10½ o'clock, A. M. A general attendance is invited.

Painful Accident.—On Friday week last, as master Frank Briggs, son of Jonathan Briggs, of Shirleysburg, was descending from the haymow, he slid upon a fork, which had been left standing upright against the mow. One of the prongs passed entirely through his right thigh. The little fellow heroically withdrew the iron himself. He is about eleven years of age. We understand he is recovering.

Enlistments.—In almost every section of this county the enlisting fever has raged since the Proclamation of the President. The great inducement, bounties, has caused many a man to volunteer, until our quota is nearly full. We trust all who have the means—the mean dollar—will give liberally; and all that are able will accept of it, and take to themselves the honor of saving mother Huntingdon from the draft.

INCOME TAX.—Instructions have been issued to U. S. Assessors that to insure an early completion of the annual list for 1864, they instruct their Assistants to begin at once the collection of income returns in their respective divisions. That is the tax due on incomes for the year ending December 31st, 1863. Persons liable to an income tax should get their affairs in order at once, to be able to make their returns without delay, when called upon.—The statement should be prepared with great care, and should set forth the entire income for 1863, from all sources; with the whole itemized statement prepared beforehand, and they can be aided by the Assistant Assessor in putting them in proper shape in a few minutes Returns will have to be made under oath.

SUBSIDED. — The individuals who were terror-stricken by the number of accidents on the Penna. Railroad during last month, have now subsided and dispelled their superstitious fears.—The less frequency of smash-ups produced by close investigation and stricter care and observance, has also removed all unjust accusations, and renewed the confidence of travelers in the ability of those who have the control and management of the Road. A better conducted and safer Railroad than the Penna. Central cannot be found.

VETERANS RETURNING. — After a short stay of peace and pleasure the veterans of this place are returning to the field once more. Two years ago or more they left us with little or no idea of a soldier's life; but, impelled by a sense of the momentous importance of the demands of the crisis, and endowed with a spirit of duty and devotedness to their country, they met and nobly fought the enemy. May they return to aid in giving the death-blow to the now tottering rebellion, see the supremacy of our Government established and acknowledged throughout the South, and come once more to their homes to enjoy the blessings of peace they fought to obtain!

A Substitute for Eggs.—As a matter of general interest, an exchange states that corn starch is an excellent substitute for eggs for culinary purposes, one spoonful of corn starch being reckoned as equal to a single egg.

The Cassville Seminary.—We have neglected for two weeks past to notice that this institution will be open for the reception of scholars on the 4th of April next, Mr. Geo. F. Davenport, the principal, we are assured is fully competent to give general satisfaction. For particulars, address Mr. Davenport at Cassville.

☞ Wm. B. Ziegler, Esq., of this place, has purchased the Monroe Furnace, and is making arrangements to put the works in operation again.

The 110th.—We observe in town a few re-enlisted members of this gallant regiment, who have returned on a furlough for several days. These heroes of a well fought campaign sh'ld meet with the most hearty and flattering welcome from the friends of the soldiers.

Destroyed by Fire.—We learn that the residence of John Dougherty, Esq., at Mount Union, was destroyed by fire on Sunday evening last. We have not learned particulars.

Out of the Draft.—Huntingdon borough has put into the army within the past two weeks, between thirty and forty new men, and we are informed that the muster rolls at Harrisburg now gives the borough an excess of at least eighty-five men to meet any future draft.

☞ Agents are in town from many townships of this county, and from Blair, Mifflin, Cambria and York counties, picking up men at good local bounties. The "boys" are pocketing the greenbacks and changing their clothing rapidly.

☞ A rebel officer jumped from a train at Mill Creek on Friday night last, and made his escape. Another jumped from the same train this side of Pittsburg, and was so badly injured that he died soon after.

☞ Lieut. Will Cunningham, of the 110th, is at home on furlough, looks as if soldiering agreed with him. Indeed all the "boys" look as if they enjoyed better health than the "home guards."

☞ An Adams Express office has been established at Coffee Run, and Simon Cohn appointed Agent. It will be quite a convenience to the people of that neighborhood desiring to ship or receive packages.

☞ Town Lots for sale in Mt. Union.—See advertisement.

U. S. 5-20'S!

The Secretary of the Treasury has not yet given notice of any intention to withdraw this popular Loan from sale at Par, and until ten days notice is given, the undersigned, as "General Subscription Agent," will continue to supply the public.

The whole amount of the Loan authorized is Five Hundred Millions of Dollars. Nearly Four Hundred Millions have been already subscribed for and paid into the Treasury, mostly within the last seven months. The large demand from abroad, and the rapidly increasing home demand for use as the basis for circulation by National Banking Associations now organizing in all parts of the country, will, in a very short period, absorb the balance. Sales have lately ranged from ten to fifteen millions weekly, frequently exceeding three millions daily, and as it is well known that the Secretary of the Treasury has ample and unfailing resources in the Duties on Imports and Internal Revenues, and in the issue of the Interest bearing Legal Tender Treasury Notes, it is almost a certainty that he will not find it necessary, for a long time to come, to seek a market for any other long or permanent Loans, THE INTEREST AND PRINCIPAL OF WHICH ARE PAYABLE IN GOLD.

Prudence and self-interest must force the minds of those contemplating the formation of National Banking Associations, as well as the minds of all who have idle money on their hands, to the prompt conclusion that they should lose no time in subscribing to this most popular Loan. It will soon be beyond their reach, and advance to a hand some premium, as was the result with the "Seven-Thirty" Loan, when it was all sold and could no longer be subscribed for at par.

It is a six per cent. Loan, the Interest and Principal payable in Coin, thus yielding over Nine per cent. per annum at the present rate of premium on coin.

The Government requires all duties on Imports to be paid in Coin; these duties have, for a long time past, amounted to over a Quarter of a Million of Dollars daily, a sum nearly three times greater than that required in the payment of the interest on all the 5-20's and other permanent Loans. So that it is hoped that the surplus Coin in the Treasury, at no distant day, will enable the United States to resume specie payments upon all liabilities.

The Loan is called 5-20 from the fact that whilst the Bonds may run for 20 years, yet the Government has a right to pay them off in Gold, at par, at any time after 5 years.

The interest is paid half-yearly, viz:—on the first days of November and May.

Subscribers can have Coupon Bonds, which are payable to bearer, and are $50, $100, $500, and $1,000, or Registered Bonds of same denominations, and in addition, $5000 and $10,000. For Banking purposes and for investments of Trust-monies the Registered Bonds are preferable.

These 5-20's cannot be taxed by States, cities, towns or counties, and the Government tax on them is only one and a half per cent., on the amount of income, when the income of the holder exceeds Six Hundred dollars per annum, all other investments, such as income from Mortgages, Railroad Stock and Bonds, etc., must pay from three to five per cent. tax on the income.

Banks and Bankers throughout the Country will continue to dispose of the Bonds, and all orders by mail, or otherwise, promptly attended to.

The inconvenience of a few days' delay in the delivery of the Bonds is unavoidable, the demand being so great but as interest commences from the day of subscription, no loss is occasioned, and every effort is being made to diminish the delay.

FLAX. FLAX.

THE HIGH PRICES RULING FOR Cotton Goods has compelled public attention to be more especially directed to the culture of Flax. It can be made by some attention, one of the most valuable products a farmer can produce; an acre readily producing 50 to 60 Dollars worth of fibre and seed. Great care should be taken by growers to have their Flax spread very thin when rolling; when watered sufficiently on one side, it should be turned, and subject to exposure until all the stalks get a grey color, and the lint readily separates from the wood by a gentle rub.

It should on a very dry day be tied in bundles; and is then ready for the mill. As a general thing too much seed is sown on an acre. Unless the ground is very rich one Bushel per acre is sufficient. If the ground is very strong one and one fourth bushel is ample.

MEN WANTED
FOR THE INVALID CORPS.

Only those faithful soldiers who, from wounds or the hardships of war, are no longer fit for active field duty, will be received in this Corps of Honor. Enlistments will be for three years, unless sooner discharged. Pay and allowance same as for officers and men of the United States Infantry; except that no premium or bounties for enlistment will be allowed. This will not invalidate any pensions or bounties which may be due for previous services.

For the convenience of service, the men will be selected for three grades of duty. Those who are most efficient and able-bodied, and capable of performing guard duty, etc., will be armed with muskets, and assigned to companies of the First Battalion. Those of the next degree of efficiency, including those who have lost a hand or an arm; and the least effective, including those who have lost a foot or leg, to companies of the Second or Third Battalions; they will be armed with swords.

The duties will be to act chiefly as provost guards and garrisons for cities; guards for hospitals and other public buildings; and as clerks, orderlies, &c. If found necessary, they may be assigned to forts, &c.

Acting Assistant Provost Marshals General are authorized to appoint officers of the Regular Service, or of the Invalid Corps, to administer the oath of enlistment to those men who have completely fulfilled the prescribed conditions of admission to the Invalid Corps, viz:

1. That the applicant is unfit for service in the field.
2. That he is fit for the duties, or some of them, indicated above.
3. That, if no now in the service, he was honorably discharged.
4. That he is meritorious and deserving.

For enlistment or further information, apply to the Board of Enrollment for the district in which the applicant is a resident.

PRACTICAL CALCULATOR.

ROHRER'S PRACTICAL CALCULATOR,

A Book of Plain Rules and Calculations for Business Operations, by Martin M. Rohrer, Practical Surveyor and Conveyancer. New Edition, published by J. B. Lippincott & Co., Philadelphia.

This work contains 204 pages, and upwards of 500 Rules and Examples, entirely and thoroughly practical such as arise every day in the common pursuits of business. It has already passed through a number of editions in rapid succession, and is pronounced by all classes of business men to be the handiest book of reference, pertaining to calculations, that has ever been published.

Every example in the book is worked out in full and stated in a plain manner, so that when a parallel case arises, those referring to the work will find no difficulty in solving it; in a word, the general arrangement of the CALCULATOR is simple, that any one who knows how to add, subtract, multiply and divide, can easily solve any ordinary example that arises in business, or arrive at the true result of any estimate required.

The chief aim of the author has been to eschew theory and philosophy in figures, aiming only at facts and simplicity, believing that business men care little about spending time in discussing the philosophy of rules, or the science of figures, deeming it sufficient for their purpose to be able at a moment, by reference, to arrive at the true result. The CALCULATOR differs in this respect from all other Arithmetics of the day and kindred works—it is a key to practical business calculations—it is, in the hands of the business man, what the key to mathematical works in the hands of the teacher in the school room—it facilitates time and insures correctness.

THE WORK TREATS OF THE

Measurement of Land, of Lumber, of Brick and Brick Work, of Stone and Stone work, of grain and grain bins of coal and coal bins, of wood, of solids, of liquids of circular, square or irregular vessels, of cisterns and vats, of roofing, of plasterer's, painter's, glazier's, paver's, plumber's, paper hanger's and upholsterers' work. It treats of currency and of foreign and domestic exchange, of the decimal system, of reduction and its extended application to business, of simple and compound interest, and their entire application to business transactions, with the laws and usages governing the same, together with numerous commercial forms—of legal tender, of partial payment on notes, of banking and bank discount, of equation of payments and of partnership accounts, of assessment of taxes, of weights and measures, of square and cubic measure, of the square root and its application, to business of surfaces, of excavation, and of many other important practical matters not within the scope of an advertisement to mention.

IT IS JUST THE BOOK FOR THE

Farmer, the merchant, the mechanic, the artizan, or the professional man. It has proven a valuable auxiliary to the lawyer, the justice of the peace, the conveyancer, and real estate broker, to the assessor, the banker, the clerk, to the civil engineer and the surveyor, to the carpenter and bricklayer, to the stonemason and the plasterer, to the paper hanger and upholsterer, to the paver and the tiler, &c., &c.; each and all will find it adapted to their various wants better than any book published.

PENS! PENS!!

GET THE BEST!

THE BEST IS THE CHEAPEST!

C. BARNARD'S

Celebrated "Corrugated Metal" Pens

ARE FOR SALE

AT LEWIS BOOK STORE,

Agent for the county.

PRICES—25 cts. per dozen or $2 per gross.

THE "CORRUGATED METAL" PENS, made by C. BARNARD, are the best Commercial and School Pens, without exception to any.—They are used by all the principal Banks and Government Departments, Public and Private Schools; also, by the most prominent Commercial Houses throughout the United tates and Canada.

But a short time has elapsed since have been introduced into the United States, still a marked preference is given them over all others for the following reasons: The "Corrugated Metal" PENS do not corrode; they will not splatter or cut through the thinnest paper; they have an easy gliding motion, a certainty of equally diffusing the ink, softness of point, and great durability.

C. BARNARD'S PENS

The following testimonials, selected from numerous others, are respectfully submitted:

I have used the Metallic Pens of Mr. C. Barnard and highly approve of them. C. BARSTOW,
President of St. Nicholas Bank, New York.

We have used the Pens of Mr. Barnard, and find them to be as he represents, and take pleasure in recommending them to the public. WELLS, FARGO & CO.,
A. HULLIGAN, Cashier.

C. Barnard's Pens have been tried, and are highly approved in this office. S. G. ODDEN,
Auditor U. S. Custom House, New York.

Having tried the corrugated Pens made by Mr. Barnard, I can recommend them as excellent.
SAMUEL L. BREES,
Commandant Navy Yard, Brooklyn.

We add ours to above recommendations.
H. B. CROMWELL & CO., New York.

I have no hesitation in saying Barnard's Pens are decidedly the best I have ever used. C. HAY, Agent United States Express Co., New York.

We can confidently recommend Mr. C. Barnard's Anti Corrosive Pens as the best ever brought under our notice without exception.
WILKINSON, TETON & CO.,
Park Place, New York.
T. B. HUGHE, Cashier.

We have been using the Pens of Mr. C. Barnard, and take great pleasure in recommending them to the public, as they are an excellent article, and all he represents them to be.
A. J. CLINTON,
Secretary Eagle Insurance Co., New York.

Upon trial we have found Mr Barnard's Pens to be excellent. FRED, PROBT & CO., New York.

I would recommend Mr. Barnard's Pens as a superior article to any I have used.
GOUVR. KEMBLE, New York.

We add ours to the above recommendations.
UNDERHILL, HAVILAND & CO., New York.

Of all Pens I have ever used, Mr. Barnard's have given me more satisfaction, and I can recommend them to the public as being entirely anti-corrosive.
E. POIRER, New York.

After six months' constant use of C. Barnard's Anti-Corrosive Pen, we can confidently recommend it as the best metallic pen we have ever used, finding from the above experience that it does not actually corrode.
McLEAN & CO., New York.

MILITARY BOOKS.

REVISED ARMY REGULATIONS.

BY AUTHORITY OF THE WAR DEPARTMENT.

The book is an octavo of 560 pages, is elegantly printed on fine paper, with new bold type, and has an admirable exhaustive index, for which every officer will be grateful, the moment his eye rests upon it, as no former edition has ever had an index, and the want of one has been long felt in the Army.

The Appendix embraces the Articles of War, containing many important corrections; also, selections from the Military Acts of Congress, including those passed at the last session.
